

Teaching of English as a Second Language at the Secondary Level (B.A.)

The major in the teaching of English as a second language at the secondary level is based on the fundamental developmental principles that individuals are capable of thinking, analyzing and evaluating their learning processes. It is expected that the graduates of this Program will be able to evaluate themselves through constant reflection. For this reason, the Program for the teaching of English as a second language at the secondary level has as its base the accepted fundamentals, theories and methodologies as well as their application in the classroom. This permits graduates from this Program to incorporate innovative technology for teaching and evaluation into the classroom.

They will keep up-to-date with the curricular guides regarding changes and adjustments that should be made when the student population they are attending requires it. This Program is designed with the goal of providing the theoretical base and the practical training needed by future teachers of English in secondary schools. This implies knowledge of:

1. The theory, methodology and application of curricular design.
2. The design of materials in English as a second language.
3. The theory and application of linguistics, the acquisition of English as a second language, the phonetics of United States English and the four language arts.
4. A comparative analysis of English and Spanish.
5. Evaluation and assessment in the classroom.
6. Adolescent literature in English.
7. Children's literature in English.
8. A solid base in writing, oral communication, grammar and the literary genres in English.

Teacher Education Program - Theoretical and Methodological Frame

The Teacher Education Program (TEP) has a psycho philosophical foundation of a behaviorist, constructivist and humanist character. This approach can be considered as an eclectic conceptual model, which allows the Program to integrate, in an organized way, principles of the three theoretical frames in its curricular designs and in its pedagogical practice leading to the formation of the future teacher. This frame of theoretical and methodological reference will serve as a guide of the TEP for decision making and actions related to its development and its curricular revision and assessment processes, in harmony with the highest standards of quality and educational excellence.

It could be indicated, that although the TEP is based on an eclectic conceptual paradigm, it gives more emphasis to the constructivist and humanist theoretical perspectives. Under the constructivist perspective the aspiring teacher is considered as an active and totally reflective person in his professional formation process. On the other hand, the humanist approach orients the educational process of the future teacher towards his integral development as a being human, in such a way, that he contributes his competencies of knowledge, skills, attitudes and values to improve the quality of life of his students and society.

It is important to mention that during the last half of the last century, and during the part of the current century that has past, education in Puerto Rico has been framed, generally, in two learning theories: the behavioral theory and the cognitive theory. In the last decades the idea of a constructivist approach in learning and in the curriculum has acquired particular interest among educators. The psychological frame of constructivism is delimited by cognitive theories of learning, and within the curriculum of the TEP, it is founded on a humanist basis of education.

From the perspective of the philosophy and psychology of education, constructivism presents a coherent explanation of how a person learns by means of an active process of construction of knowledge through significant experiences, whereas the humanist vision in the curriculum promotes the professional and social commitment of the future teacher to attend to the educational needs and interests of the diverse student populations, with sensitivity. This implies that all teacher education programs must provide a wide variety of educational experiences for the academic formation of the aspiring teachers, directed toward the maximum development of a pedagogical culture. These practical and formative educational experiences will permit the future teacher to establish a connection between the theoretical knowledge and the pedagogical practice, in a pertinent context of human formation.

In order to give direction to its vision, mission and declaration of goals statements, the TEP uses the professional standards of teachers established by the Puerto Rico Department of Education and by the CAEP. These standards have as their main purpose to delineate the professional characteristics that the teacher must have to achieve that the students develop, in an integral way, their capacities and potentialities to the maximum in all dimensions as human beings, within a context of a culture of peace and acceptance of diversity. In addition, these standards establish the indicators of the qualities that the teachers must have to facilitate their students' learning of knowledge, skills and attitudes. It is important to indicate that the standards also serve the teacher as parameters for him to reflect on his continuous professional development and how this must be in harmony with the learning needs of his students.

In synthesis, the task of educational formation is a complex one and is a great social responsibility. In order to assume this responsibility, the TEP has designed a curriculum focused on how to prepare the teachers that society needs and demands, as an effective means to improve its quality of life.

Vision

The Program aspires to develop a series of integrated educational experiences, focused on the professional formation of a teacher of excellence. That is to say, that the teacher will contribute to the educational scenario with his professional competencies of knowledge, skills and attitudes necessary to promote changes and answers adapted to the educational environment. Primarily, the Program aims to prepare a teacher, who is knowledgeable of the problems of education in Puerto Rico and in other countries, in such a way that he will be able to collaborate in the process of constructive changes that will improve his quality of life and that of others.

Mission

The Program is directed to the formation of teachers within a curriculum that provides an accumulation of articulated experiences which, at the same time, provides space for the construction of the pedagogical knowledge and content that will develop the future teacher. These experiences will be characterized by continuous reflection, practice in real scenarios, research, collaboration, relevance of the contents, pedagogical modeling and the search and use of means that will provide solutions to the typical problems of the teaching-learning processes in different contexts. In this curriculum the components of the general education, core and major courses will be integrated.

Goals

In harmony with the vision and the mission for the TEP, the following goals, in coherence with the profile of competencies of graduates of the Program, are established.

1. Develop educational professionals focused on the mastery of the knowledge of the discipline within the context of a scientific, pedagogical and humanist culture.
2. Promote research, the management of information and the use of technology as means to generate the production and construction of knowledge that will result in the improvement of pedagogical practice within the education system.
3. Develop education professionals, who are sensitive to the needs and interests of the diverse social groups that exist in the population, within a context of human transformation.
4. Promote the solution of problem related to the educational environment within the frame of ethical, legal and social responsibility that regulates the profession.
5. Develop educational leaders committed to their professional development as a means to promote a better pedagogical practice and, therefore, a better quality of life within the context of a culture of peace.

General Objectives

The Program aims to achieve the following general objectives:

1. Apply, in an integrated manner, theoretical and methodological knowledge to the pedagogical practice in the educational scenario.
2. Use research, the sources of information and technological advances on which to base the development of educational innovations.
3. Show an attitude of acceptance and sensitivity to the educational needs and interests presented by the diverse student populations.
4. Apply the ethical, legal and social dimensions in the processes of problem solving and decision making related to the practice of the profession in the different educational scenarios.
5. Show commitment to the continuous improvement of the required professional competencies in the field of education.

The Teacher Education Program is an answer to the needs and aspirations of a society in constant change. The mission and goals of Inter American University of Puerto Rico, the Teacher Education Program provides a framework of integrated educational experiences. The Program is directed toward the professional formation of a teacher of excellent quality; i.e., one who can contribute in an effective manner to produce the changes deemed desirable in students, knowledgeable about the problems confronting education, and capable of collaborating in the process of change to improve the quality of both the teacher's life and that of others. The Program, therefore, seeks to achieve a greater integration of its components: professional courses, major courses and general education courses.

Teacher preparation emphasizes the development of those skills and attitudes that allow for the formation of a critical, flexible and creative mind that by using educational theories as the starting point is capable of identifying and posing problems, of carrying out research to find solutions and proposing adequate answers which can be verified through experimentation.

The new vision of teacher preparation requires a program of studies that provides a great number of related experiences that enables the construction of pedagogical knowledge and content. These experiences are characterized by continuous reflection, practice in real settings, research, and collaboration. The Program studies the relevance of content, the pedagogical model and tools that permit the solution of problems inherent in the teaching and learning processes in different contexts. In this Program of study, the general education, major, and core course components will be integrated.

Profile of the Competencies of Graduates

This Program is designed to develop the general competencies, tied to the core courses that will permit students to:

Knowledge

To know and understand:

1. The philosophical, psychological and sociological foundations that serve as a base for education and give direction to the pedagogical practice.
2. The processes of construction of cognitive, affective and psychomotor learning through the different stages of human development.
3. The importance of the creation of a harmonious physical and social environment that is adjusted to the diversity of the social groups and to the individual needs and interests of the students.

3. Show a critical and creative attitude towards the management of information available in different sources related to the teaching discipline and to the field of education.
4. Assume leadership roles and professional responsibility in the different educational scenarios and communitarian contexts to promote learning and the integral development of students.

The Orlando Cyber Study Center offers study programs for the Bachelor of Arts degree in Special Education. The University's B.A. in Special Education qualifies eligible students to apply for a valid standard teaching certificate issued by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Eligibility is subject to change by the Puerto Rico Department of Education, but presently requires that students be at least 18, maintain an overall GPA and major GPA of 3.00 (if graduating on or after 2010), pass the Pruebas de Certificación de Maestros, and provide personal and professional documentation.

THE UNIVERSITY DOES NOT WARRANT, REPRESENT, OR GUARANTEE THAT GRADUATES WILL RECEIVE ANY TEACHING CERTIFICATE OR BE LICENSED TO TEACH. Students with a valid standard teaching certificate issued by Puerto Rico may apply for reciprocal treatment in Florida. This requires completing the Florida Bureau of Teacher Certification's CG-10 application form and submitting a processing fee, official transcripts showing all degrees and credits, copies of the teaching certificate issued in Puerto Rico, and fingerprints. Students without a valid standard teaching certificate issued by Puerto Rico may qualify for a Temporary Certificate from Florida, but must also pass the Florida Teacher Certification Exam (FTCE). Students wishing to teach outside their areas of specialization may also be required to take additional courses. For more information on teacher certification requirements, visit on-line the Florida Bureau of Teacher Certification website. In the event of a conflict between the terms of the website and this handbook, the website's terms will govern.

The Teacher Education Program requires completion of a variety of field placements, as well as a supervised internship. To receive credit, students interested in the teaching internship must apply for and comply with the School District's requirements and application deadlines, as well as the University's degree program requirements. Students interested in applying for an internship must contact the Executive Director of the Cyber Study Center at least 10 months before the student is qualified for and would like placement.

Students who have had previous satisfactory teaching experience may apply for an exemption from the teaching internship requirement from the University; however, said exception may not be acceptable to the particular state or territory teacher certification program to which the student wants to apply. This exemption will be subject to the following conditions:

3. The student has been teaching full-time for two academic years within the last four years as verified by the principal of the school.
4. The student pays 50% of the registration cost of the courses EDUC 3015 and EDUC 4013 for the final validation of the credits.

The experience to be credited by the University corresponds to the requirements for the degree that the student hopes to obtain from the University.

This program is authorized to be offered online.
